LEEDS TRANSPORT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A Charitable Incorporated Organisation
(CIO No 1160446)

September 2020

The Leeds Tramway Historical Society (as it was initially known) was formed in 1956 with the aim of preserving something of the Leeds City Tramway system before it closed down. The group of tramway enthusiasts who formed it tried without success to preserve a Middleton bogie tramcar from a scrap yard.

As a result, three Leeds tramcars were acquired in the 1959-61 period and all are now to be found at the National Tramway Museum at Crich in Derbyshire, with which our society has always closely worked.

Eventually, interests broadened and our name was changed in 1967 to The Leeds Transport Historical Society; in 1972, it became a registered charity and a Charitable Incorporated Organisation in 2014.

Projects

Leeds horse tram No.107, bought by Leeds City Tramways in 1898, ran in service for just three years whilst the system was electrified and was then used as a static mess van until the 1920's. It was sold to an employee who used it as a summer house in east Leeds.

Discovered by a member of the LTHS, the car was acquired by the Society and stored for several years in a garage until restoration could be carried out.

Work started in earnest in 2005 and in 2013 the restored car made its debut at a Middleton Railway gala. The tram is currently exhibited at the National Tramway Museum at Crich.

The restoration of No.107 was paid for by the LTHS through fund raising and donations and further projects will be undertaken as opportunities arise.

Meetings & Visits

The Society meets on the second Monday evening of each month between September and June with varied subjects including illustrated talks on all topics of transport such as buses, trams and railways.

Meetings are held at the Middleton Railway Trust Engine House, Moor Road, Hunslet, Leeds, LS10 2JQ, meeting at 1915 for a 1930 start and finishing by 2200, with a short interval. Non-members are welcome.

Occasional visits to places of transport interest are also organised.

Publications

In 1985 the Society took the decision to publish a detailed history of public road transport in Leeds. These would be high quality hard back books based on extensive detailed research and featuring appropriate illustrations.

Volume 1, covering the period up to 1902, was published that same year and a further four volumes continued the story up to bus deregulation in 1986. Other books have also been published since, and all are available through our website www.lths.co.uk.

All of our books have been compiled by the LTHS archivist and historian, Jim Soper, in collaboration with other members of the Society and with contributions from many eminent transport photographers.

Leeds Transport – Volume 1 - 1830 – 1902

This covers the beginnings of public road transport in Leeds including the horse buses, the early horse and steam tramways and the early electric tramways including the pioneering Roundhay Electric Tramway.

Leeds Transport – Volume 2 - 1902 – 1931

Continuing the story of public road transport in Leeds, this volume covers the end of the steam trams, the expansion of the tramway system, the introduction of both private and municipal motor buses and the short-lived trolleybuses.

Leeds Transport – Volume 3 – 1931 – 1953

This volume is further extension of the public road transport story, detailing the final expansion of the tramway system, including reserved track lines, as well as the schemes that did not get built and the first stages of tramway abandonment. The impact of World War II is covered along with the further development of bus services, both private and municipal.

Leeds Transport – Volume 4 – 1953 – 1974

This book continues the story of public road transport in Leeds, including the final run-down and abandonment of the tramways and the closing years of Leeds City Transport as a municipal concern. Other private operators that worked into Leeds, such as Samuel Ledgard, Kippax & District, Farsley Omnibus Company and West Yorkshire Road Car Company are also covered.

Leeds Transport – Volume 5 - 1974 – 1986

The final volume in the set covers the formation of the West Yorkshire PTE and Metro and runs up to privatisation. It also covers the various trolleybus proposals (prior to NGT) and has a chapter detailing the various preserved Leeds trams and buses as well as other preservation attempts. An appendix gives a comprehensive account of the development of turnpikes around Leeds in the 19th Century.

Leeds Transport on Postcards

Containing reproductions of 248 postcards that feature various forms of transport in or related to Leeds, this book features both images in sepia and 30 original coloured photographs. (Available in soft and hard back)

Leeds Transport in Colour 1880 to 1952

This book by that was published in 2017. In this book Jim has digitally coloured black and white photographs, this has the effect of bringing the pictures to life.

Leeds Pubs and Cinemas by Tram

Pubs and Cinemas provided a communal focal point and were a valuable part of the social and architectural history of Leeds. Using tram and bus photographs from the 1950's, over 95% of which have not been published previously, this book features 139 pubs and 25 of the cinemas which were visible from the tram. It includes detailed captions and two maps showing locations and their proximity to the contemporary tram routes.
